Dear Sir/Madam

RE: WFSJ ELECTIONS: RECOMMENDATION FOR OCHIENG OGODO

I write to support Ochieng' Ogodo's candidature for consideration as a board member of the World Federation of Science Journalists (WFSJ). Ogodo serves as the patron of the Kenya Environment and Science Journalists Association (KENSJA), having served as chairperson since its inception.

Ogodo is a prolific and foremost science journalist in Kenya, and has displayed his commitment through participating locally in the activities of KENSJA as well as those of the World Federation of Science Journalists.

His position as Sub Saharan Africa editor for Scidev.Net gives him an edge in contributing towards issues affecting the continent as well as representing Africa.

Because of his level of commitment, I believe he will be able to make time for face to face meetings of the board, as well as work well with fellow board members to improve science journalism globally.

I have no reservation in recommending Ogodo.

Yours Faithfully,

Rosalia Omungo
KENSJA Chairperson
